About This Game

3Buttons is a short free-to-play platformer where you will only need three buttons to play!

Choose between three different geometrical shapes; Sphere, Capsule, and the dreaded Cube.

If you beat the game on 'Speedrunner', then you can submit your High Score for the global leaderboards!

Good luck.

Shapes:

Choose between three different geometrical shapes, each with its own difficulty level:

- Sphere - The easiest way to play. Small and perfectly symmetrical.
- Capsule - Slightly harder than the Sphere as it has a 'wobbly' effect.
- Cube - Practically impossible after Level1. Only exists for the real try-hards out there.

Game Modes:

Choose between two different game modes:

- Normal - When you die you will respawn at the start of the level.
- Speedrunner - No respawn. However, if you beat the game your result will be added to the High Scores.

Other Features:

- Bindings - Allows the user to customize its input keybindings.
- Menu Shortcuts - All UI navigation can be done using just your keyboard.
- Cutscenes - Before each level there is a short cutscene highlighting the the architecture of the level.
- Original Music - All of the music was composed directly for this game.
- Native FPS-Counter - Press 'T' to toggle the native fps-counter.
- Graphic Settings - There are three different graphic settings: LOW, MEDIUM, and HIGH.
- Resolution/Framerate Ambivalence - The game should work on all resolutions and framerates.

The game will forever be completely free-to-play.

KNOWN ISSUES

- * The cutscenes seem to not play properly on Linux devices.

About the game as a project

My name is John 'Flex' Segerstedt, currently an IT college student, and this game was designed and developed by me during the summer of 2018 using Unity.

I hope you enjoy the game, as I enjoyed making it, and if there is some glaring bug that is a must-fix then don't be afraid to contact me about it.
